

Additional Files you may want to include

Your work in Python or Scratch or Javascript, or perhaps work done on a microprocessor or on another html resource such as a tiddlywiki, may already be stored and a link to the file included in the html file.

There may be other files or reflections or ideas that you would like to link to.

Go to the DIV3 section in the html file (see below) and edit the code and links appropriately. Or copy the entire DIV to create a new one.

<! DIV3 - developmentDIV : Link to a file showing your pseudocode or brainstorming ideas. The directory path below can be easily changed.>
